To Whom This May Concern:

Angela Labrecque has shown an extremely high level of professionalism and quality of work. As an employee with Ambucs she wears many hats as our office staff is very small for all the work that is done. She is in charge of all media and communication related projects. She creates marketing plans, marketing templates, magazines, helps our regions create digital newsletters, takes care of the web page, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and plans trade shows. Her work has two parts, one as an employee and one as a volunteer which shows how dedicated she is to our mission.

Not only can she create media and marketing campaigns, she can direct and teach those of us who are less skilled to become more proficient at using all the tools she has set up for us. She is very patient as she teaches and works with us until we "get it". Much of the work with Ambucs entails communication via email or other digital communication. It takes a special talent to be able to give direction and teach in that manner. She answers her emails in a timely fashion so work can continue as if we were all in the same room.

National Ambucs has a colorful and informative magazine that is published approximately 4 times a year. This task is also assigned to our media/marketing employee and Angela has done a very nice job creating this wonderful tool to help us share our mission. The other magazine she is responsible for is the Amtryke catalogue. It needs to be updated each year to reflect the changes in our product. Of course, both of these tools can be found on our web page as well.

Another part of her job is to organize and travel to trade shows and conventions. This takes another entirely different set of skills. Her computer skills are at a very high level and she often creates or changes our information as we are meeting and throwing ideas her way. She can listen to our discussion, consolidate our thoughts and instantly make the changes. She always has a smile on her face as she works long hours associated with such events. Her "people" skills are excellent.

She works tirelessly on many projects, often several at the same time. We all know her heart is in the right place as she has chosen to work in the nonprofit sector. She is an asset to any company.

Sincerely,
Donna Carlton-Vish
